Dear Coach Deljoo,

I am pleased to inform you that your certification submittal has been reviewed. We have noted in your certification history: Level 5 School test and athlete IAG achievement accepted. Congratulations. John Leonard

You have been credited with 25 Continuing Education Units, giving you a total of 92 units. Continuing Education Units can be earned in several ways. I have enclosed a list of Continuing Education Courses offered by the ASCA. You may also want to visit the ASCA Online Education section on our website. There you will find many video courses that will not only enhance your coaching expertise, but will count toward Continuing Education Units as well. In order to gain credits for online video courses that do not include a test; you will need to submit a short summary of the video(s).

I would also like to direct your attention to a new opportunity to become a Level 3, 4 or 5 coach via the "Education Track" - If you do not yet have an athlete at the required achievement level, you can still have access to becoming a Level 5 coach. Education only certification information enclosed in this packet. If you have any questions, please call me or our certification coordinator at 1-800-356-2722.

Thank you for your interest in beginning/maintaining your ASCA certification. Keep up the good work!

Sincerely,

John Leonard
Executive Director
